

1 They will punish the proud with the penalty they deserve.

2 How much longer will you sit back and watch the wicked triumph in their evil, boasting in all that is wrong?

3 Listen to their giggling among themselves, all because of the crimes they've committed against your people!

4 See how they're crushing those who love you, God, cruelly oppressing those who belong to you.^a

5 Heartlessly they murder the widows, the foreigners and even the orphaned children.

6 They say to their selves, "The Lord God doesn't see this.

Their God, the God of Jacob, he doesn't even care!"

7 But you'd better watch out, you stupid fools! You'd better wise up! Why would you act like God doesn't exist?

8 Do you really think that God can't hear their cries?

9 God isn't hard of hearing; he'll hear all their cries!

10 God isn't blind! He who made the eye has superb vision and he's watching all you do.

11 Won't the God who knows all things know what you've done?

^a 94:4-5 Or "[the people of] his inheritance." See also verse 14.

my sin and delight