

at each and every sunrise my eyes of love

Psalm

PROTECT ME

For the Pure and Singing One King David's song of instruction composed when he sought an ambush against him at his home^a "The Lord will Destroy"

Protect me!
In my affliction, all my enemies for they're coming to kill me.
Put me in a high place out of their reach
A place so high that the assassins will never reach me.

...from these murdering men, these
...how they set an ambush for my life.
...are here to launch their attack
...against me.
God, I'm innocent, I've done nothing to deserve this, yet they are plotting against me.
Arise, Lord, see to it that they're scheming and don't meet their end.
Awaken, O God of Israel!
Commander of the Angel-Armies, arise to punish the treacherous people who oppose you!
Don't go soft on these murderous killers!

will fall to the air

^a This word is recorded in 1 Samuel 18:11-18.
^b 50% implied in the context.

